MOLDAVIAN HIGHER EDUCATION PROGRESSES -- Sovetskaya Moldaviya, No 149, 26 Jul 49

Moldavian higher education has developed rapidly since the establishment of the Moldavian SSR in 1940. There are now seven higher educational institutions in Moldavia, including the agricultural and pedagogical institutes, the conservatory, and the state university, all in Kishinev, and the teachers' institutes in Tiraspol and Bel'tay.

There are now 3,000 regular students and 2,000 correspondence students attending Moldavian higher educational institutions. The state university, agricultural institute, medical institute, and pedagogical institute offer graduate studies.

Graduates of higher educational institutions are increasing year by year. The agricultural institute graduated only 17 students in 1945 but graduated 110 students in 1949. Graduates of the medical institute increased from 148 in 1946 to 215 in 1949. The state university will graduate its first class of 98 historians, philosophers, physicists, and mathematicians next year.

The state university now has 22 chairs. Seven more chairs will be opened this coming school year, including those of dialectical materialism, political economy, physical chemistry, plant physiology, physiology of animals, lower plants, and mineralogy. The university will accept graduate students in the specialties of soil science, physics, organic chemistry, inorganic chemistry, botany of higher plants, and plant physiology.

Since 1940, the number of secondary technical schools in Moldavia has increased from three to 38. -- K. Nikitin, chief, Cultural Groups, Council of Ministers, Moldavian SSR

Moldavian higher educational institutions graduated 695 students this school year, and advanced 3,418 undergraduate students who passed their examinations to the next higher class. A total of 1,300 persons will enter Moldavian higher educational institutions for the 1949 - 1950 school year. -- Ye. Rachkova, head, Science and Higher Educational Institutions Sector, Central Committee, KP(b) Moldavia
